THE SENIOR CLASS

Kutztown High School

KUTZTOWN, PENNSYLVANIA

DEDICATION

ALTON W. REX

The class of 1950 wishes to dedicate this year-book to Mr. Alton W. Rex. In the five years he has been teaching mathematics at Kutztown High School, Mr. Rex, a graduate of Muhlenberg College and K. S. T. C., has proven himself an invaluable instructor, friend, and confidant. He has given time and effort to the furthering of athletics, to the band, and is the student's spokesman.

To you, Mr. Rex, we dedicate the 1950 Cougar.

Cougar Staff

The Cougar Staff takes pride in presenting this yearbook of the Class of 1950. The pictures and features of friends and classmates are priceless keepsakes which will never grow old. We, as the Class of 1950, can renew our acquaintance with you countless times by paging through this volume. It has been a pleasure for us to gather the material for this book, and we hope it will be as much of an enjoyment to you who have made the publication of the '50 Cougar possible.

Throughout these years you have shared many unforgettable days. Friendships that will stay with you in years to come have been established by all, and you have added to maturity not only in the classrooms, but also on the athletic fields.

Keep on learning. Grow strong with the use of your knowledge. Your mind is the master key to the good life.

Above all, "Not what you get, but what you give," is important.

A message to the Seniors of 1950:

You have been waiting for this climax for a long time. Now that it has arrived, the joy of it is tempered with the torrents of anxiety, insecurity, and the weighty need of wise planning for the future.

The memory of these years will always be with you. The memories will be pleasant in direct ratio to how you made your stay here pleasant.

The impressions of students and teachers that you will retain will be colored largely by what you contributed to create those impressions. Please remember that there is good in everyone, and that as the years pass, you will remember the good, and that the bad will gradually fade from your memory. Therefore, why not start now and emphasize the good? Life will be more pleasant that way.

Our best wishes go with you. May God bless and prosper you in whatever field of service you may choose to labor.

To the Class of 1950:

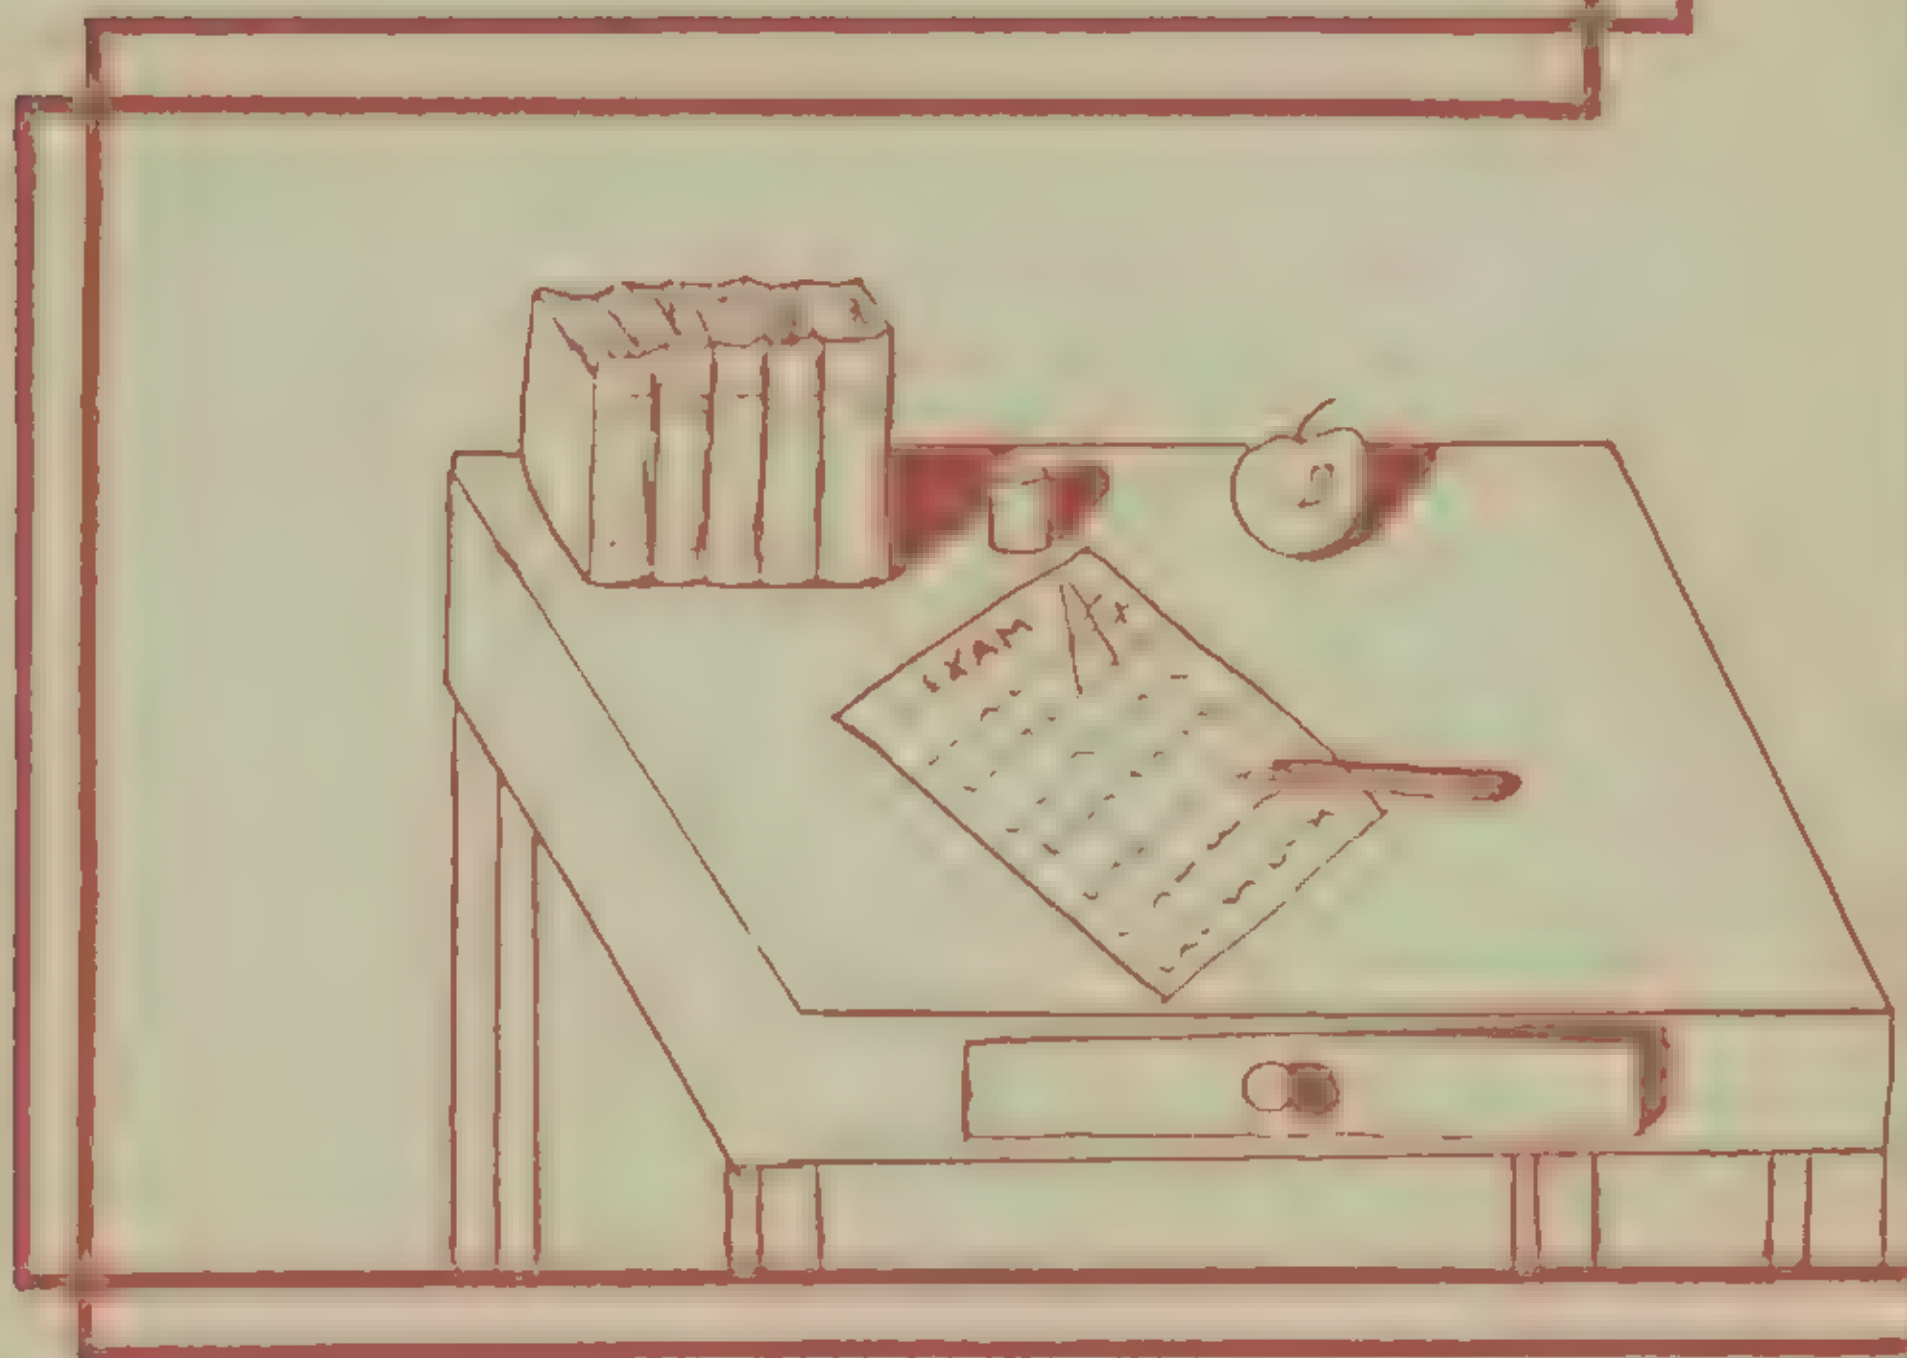

It is difficult for you to realize that your high school days are rapidly coming to an end and that as a class the individual members "will widely spread" to all points of the compass. Whatever direction you travel it is well to know that all roads can lead to a commendable achievement which presents limitless possibilities.

Today's students must learn to take life as it is and prepare themselves so they can take advantage of all opportunities coming their way. The learning of a few scientific facts is important; but it is far more important to combine this knowledge with vision, confidence, determination, and character which makes for a fuller, more useful and successful life. The ways to success never change.

Fundamental values of life do not change in spite of political and economic unrest. It remains for you to stress the development of the finer things of life such as character, ability, and vision, which are the forerunners of success. This is the American Way and it is your duty to preserve it for future generations. May God's blessings and your school's best wishes accompany you in your life's journey.

History

Student Council

The Student Council is one of the most important organizations of the school. It gives the students valuable experience in self-government, and gives them a hand in the management. The council is comprised of one student from each home room, elected by the home room members. The faculty advisor is Mr. Davis.

The Student Council publishes a hand book, the Cougar's Tale, as a guidebook for new students, and takes charge of noontime entertainment, and appoints a student patrol whose function is to keep order at noon.

Although the Student Council was formed in 1943, it had not been very effective in receiving student cooperation, nor did it have much voice in school management. This was largely due to an indifferent attitude on the part of the student body. This year the student council, we feel, was more carefully elected, due to the publicity the election was given by the Ku-lli-Nu. We hope this will be an epoch in the history of our organization.

Class History

The class of '50 started during the 1946-47 term with a roll of 94. In the next year with the addition of the Campus Jr. High it was pushed up to 113. 125 was made by the Topton High pupils and during their final year their class roll had dropped to 116. Of these 28 were from Kutztown, 15 were from Topton and 73 came from the other districts. The General section had the most pupils with 33 while the Academic had 30, the Commercial 29, and the Vocational 24.

Since finances were first in their minds, they started building a fund in their junior year. The Jean Dance was probably the most popular of their dances. They sold confetti at the Halloween parade. During the '49-50 term they also had a food and confetti stand at the parade and sponsored a dance afterwards. Many of the seniors were kept busy either decorating for dances or selling food at the stand at the home basketball games during the year. They also participated in the Magazine Campaign.

During March they presented a very successful Class Play, "And Came the Spring." They concluded their senior year with a trip to New York and then received their diplomas.

Prophecy

As I, Lunette Arnold, psychiatrist, walked into my office on the morning of May 25, 1960, my receptionist Shirley Arndt, informed me that a patient was awaiting me. When I opened the door to my inner office, I found my old friend, Maureen Eck, a language teacher at KHS, waiting impatiently. I was quite overjoyed to see her again, but Maureen was rather upset and so we got down to business quickly. The trouble with Maureen seemed to be very disturbing dreams, so Maureen lay down on the couch and proceeded to tell me about them. They were something like this, in her own words, "I seemed to be floating through space above the earth, when all of a sudden I saw a red Ford rocket racing about 200 miles an hour through a large farming area. The rocket came to a stop, and Raymond Seidel hopped out carrying a box which he gave to Richard Prentiss. It seemed that Richard was chief veterinarian in charge of research on a mysterious disease which was spreading through the surrounding farms, owners of which were Wayne Kamp, Lee Miller, Mike Zervos, Lester Bond, Kermit Dietrich, and Russell Henry. John Kieffer, a famous biologist, was working on the curious disease which had started on Ted Du Bois' experimental breeding farm. The package contained drugs from Winfield Smith's Drug Store. Carl Stitzel was working on the disease from a mathematical point of view and seemed to be coming to some definite conclusions when Henry Johnson opened a window, and Carl's calculations were blown away. The papers flew along on the wind, and so did I until I saw Yoder's Grove, a picnic ground.

As I looked down, I saw many of my former classmates having a wonderful time. There were Stanley Brynarski, Joanne Diehl, Shirley Stopp, June Hoch, and Grace Balhouser, members of the KHS faculty, all raising Cain as they used to. John Rohrbach, Charles Gallmeyer, and Jimmy Schauer, noted sportsmen, had gone with Clark Sell, a Forest Ranger, to see if they could find any good fishing. Roane Lytle, adventurer, was trying to organize a hike, but the only person he could interest was Howard Mohler, for all the others wanted to watch the baseball game. Robert Reinhard was pitching. Ernie Moyer was up to bat and hit one waaaaay back into the outfield. Bruce and Ivan Oswald, and Arthur Moser watched from the infield, and the three outfielders, Roger Schollenberger, Carl Schroeder and Carl Shoemaker, ran futilely to catch the ball. Wayne Hertzog put another home run down on the score card for the General Team. Then I saw Ronald Eisenhart, a chain store owner, and Sylvia Fenstermacher, his secretary, walking hand in hand by the stream. On the other side of the stream I saw Clifford Hilberg and Eddie Rentschler, asleep under a tree. Over at the pavilion were Richard Merkel and Max Bleiler, prominent debaters, arguing, while Dot Lake and Alverta Reese listened.

Everything began to swirl and swim before my eyes; so I closed them for a second, and when I opened them, I was in a very large hall with a lot of doors. The name plate on the first door said "Rowland Reifinger, President of the Hild Drug Co." Down the hall were other signs that read, "Lucy Oswald, Vice-President," "Barbara Metta, Business Manager," and "Shirley Heiter, Circulation Manager." I opened the door to one of the large offices and I saw Mary Louise Berg, Lorraine Dries, Eva Heydt, and Margaret Rebstock, filing folders in huge cabinets. Louise Wanamaker, Barbara Scheifele, and Eleanor Fox were helping in this operation. At desks were Florene Border, Gloria Fox, Doris Keiser, Lorraine Romig, Pat Schimmuel, Pat Rohrbach, Joan Bieher, and Gladys Ziegler typing so rapidly that I couldn't follow their fingers. Maxine Hertzog came running through the office and dropped a bottle of drugs right beneath me. The dust filled my eyes, and I couldn't see until I had brushed the dust from my eyes; then I was in a cloud where stardust was flying about.

There on another cloud I saw a sparkling counter, about ten miles high from which floated the most delightful odor. I investigated and found Marilyn Schlegel showing a new perfume to Barbara Baker who was going to write a poem about it for an advertisement. At the same counter was Virginia Courtland demonstrating a dust make-up kit. Jane Bleiler, Mary Alice Chittiman, Betty Dunkel, and Dorothea Kunkel were watching. Then I saw how Smith began to explain a color chart used in choosing make-up. The chart looked like a patchwork quilt to me, and then it was a patchwork quilt with lots of my old schoolmates sitting around it, making it larger and larger. Emma Hendrickson, a designer, was sewing with her friends, Mary Angstadt, Marilyn Seaman, Kathleen Balhouser, Lillie Greenawald, Pat Epler, Arlene Deisher, and Doris Sawyer. On the other side of the room Mildred Reimert, Geraldine Kuhn, Marilyn Leiby, Gloria Quinther, and Geraldine Kunkel were cutting design for another quilt. Marilyn Rothermel, a Home-making teacher, pointed to the wall and told me that the painting hanging there was by the famous artist, Lee Schlenker. I looked at the picture and it was so lovely that it reminded me of beautiful music. I closed my eyes, and I could really hear beautiful music. So I opened them and saw Norman Eberly leading an orchestra of huge proportions. In that orchestra I saw the following: Eleanor Mae Alandt on the piano; Curvons Stauffer, bass horn; Faye Luckenbill, baritone; Lowell Frederick, trombone; and Murlin Rhoads, solo cornet.

The program told me that guest soloists for the evening were the famous baritone, David Siegfried and Marjorie Arndt, soprano. The program started, and time flew on the wings of song until the end of the last number which was so loud that I blinked my eyes and remembered our basketball games.

When I opened my eyes again, I was at a basketball game, only it was not like any game I had ever seen before. The players on the floor were Ivan Merkel, Janet Weidner, Inch Suter, Alma Dreilichs, Skip Berrell, Eleanor DeLong, Jean Clemmer, Mo Greenawald and Gladys Stoldt. I saw Donald Brintzenhoff, a famous sports commentator, and asked him why the team was so funny and why boys and girls were on the court. He said that I hadn't been around lately, that times had changed in ten years, and so had basketball. It had, for the next thing that happened was Jean Clemmer tackled the referee and both had to be taken to the hospital. I went along, of course, and there in the operating room I saw the surgeon, Elsie Hertzog. Her nurses were Edith Henning, Lucille Dries, Catherine Gaby, and Mildred Romig. Over in one corner Malcolm Heffner, a dentist, was filling the teeth of Carroll Angstadt, a noted violinist. Mary Immel was his assistant. I don't know what he was doing in an operating room, and I was becoming quite confused when I felt myself falling off the chandelier on which I had been sitting. I opened my eyes to find myself on the floor of my bedroom. I had fallen out of bed."

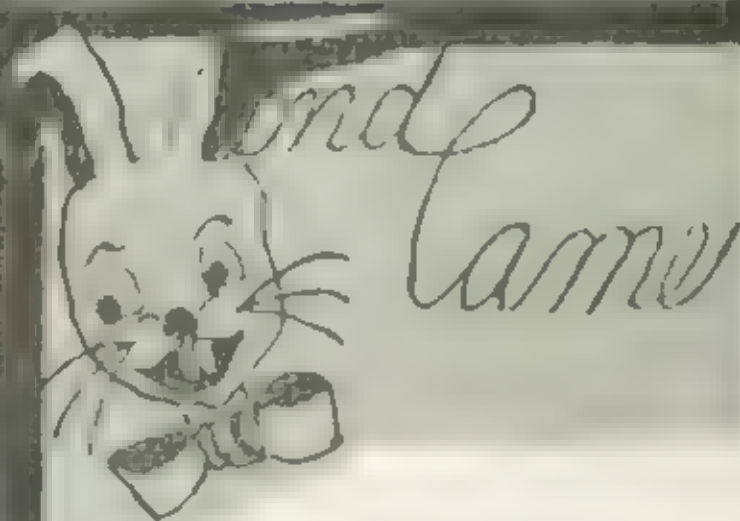

That is the way Maureen told her dreams to me, and the only cure I could recommend was a vacation for the only thing wrong with her was homesickness for the good old high school days.

Class Play

The smell of grease paint and a stir of excitement was in the air. Miss Bonner and Mrs. Argestadt were having a gay old time with the make-up while Mr. Hehr, director (Linton) was checking on everything in a frenzy. Mr. Dreysellus was running around with Fuffy his dog under one arm and props under the other. Running over lines which they knew perfectly were the members of the cast. Clancy (Dallas De Long) and Edna (Shirley Heier) were rehearsing their love scene while Midge (Lyle Luckenbill) kibitzed as usual. Mr. and Mrs. Hartman (Winfield Smith and Lucy Oswald) were going over their breakfast conversation while

The Spring

Virginia (Lunette Arnold) was trying to remember to treat Buzz (Clark Sell) like a friend and keep Keith (Ted DuBois) her boy friend, out of the glamorous clutches of Carolyn (Joyce Smith), Gaby (Maxine Hertzog) and Freddie (Marion Rhoads) were helping Elliott (Richard Prentiss) the poet carry his typewriter about a Christine (Alma Drentholts) and red make up on her legs. Mr. Fields (Romaine Taylor), Alan (Ernest Meyer) and the messenger boy (Donald Brintzenhoff) were trying to work Mrs. Fields (Marilyn Rothermel) into a rage.

As the band played the final note of the introductory number Mr. Rich told all of his nervous notes that they would be wonderful, and the audience would love it. They were, and it did.

ATHLETICS

The Cougar Booters wound up the season with a log of six wins, one loss, and three ties. These figures were good for second place in league standings. "Stubby" Rhoads captained the '49 Cougars.

"Skip" Borrell, "Mike" Weidenhammer, and "Bogey" Sell accounted for three goals in the league opener with Oley. However, the "Red-birds" held Kutztown to a 0-0 tie on their home patch.

Hackettwood's unorthodox play on their home diamond held the Cougars scoreless. Kutztown retaliated on the home grounds with a 4-0 victory over the "Tigers". Weidenhammer, Barto, and Sell accounted for the Kutztown scores.

Kutztown emerged the victor in two wild contests with Perry, winning 1-0 at home and 3-1 at Perry. Weidenhammer, Angstadt, and Sell booted goals for Kutztown.

The hottest game of the season occurred when Hamburg visited Kutztown. Stan Henne broke a 1-0 lead built up by Weidenhammer with a goal in the fourth period. The game ended in a 1-1 tie. The "Hawks" stopped the Cougars 1-0 at Hamburg and clinched the divisional flag.

Kutztown tabbed a twin win over Ontelaunee 2-0, 1-0. Wuchter, Weidenhammer, and Borrell provided the margin of victory.

"Mike" Weidenhammer, our classy center forward, was awarded a trophy as the outstanding player in the Northern Division.

"Rudy" Merkel, "Stubby" Rhoads, "Skip" Borrell, Ed Rentschler, "Bogey" Sell, "Capper" Stauffer, "Tub" Mohler hung up their blue and white uniforms for the last time after the finale with Ontelaunee.

The classy Cougars retained the Berks County Toga captured last year. It was a long, tough grind for the Cougars who played this year in the Central division. Kutztown came from behind to win the second-half crown after losing the first round to Mt. Penn.

"Rudy" Merkel and "Inch" Suter captained the '49-50 team. Merkel was second high point producer with 380 markers. "Rudy" put his 6'2" to good use and handled his forward duties very capably. He was a good floor man as well as a demon under the basket. "Inch" was the brain of the back court and set up many of the scoring plays. He was deadliest on a long set shot or a one hander from the free throw lane. Dick missed part of the season due to torn ligaments, but wound up third in the point department with 248.

"Capper" Stauffer displayed a razzle-dazzle type of ball all through the season. "Capper's" back court work and one handed shots made him one of Coach Silan's most reliable relief men. Hustling "Skip" Borrell could always be depended upon to take care of the boards when the taller men were inactive. "Skip" always put spark into the team and always made his shots count. "Bogey" Sell rounded out the list of senior varsity players. "Bogey" saw limited action, but always was willing to take over when his teammates needed a rest.

"Mike" Weidenhammer, a junior, led the scoring parade with 424 points. "Mike" was deadly from any spot on the floor. His tricky ball handling and classy guarding made him one of Silan's most reliable players. "Slim Ray" Oswald and "Rod" Rhoads were the other two juniors on the team. Ray's timely rebound shots accounted for his position in the scoring column.

"Big Ed" Hauck, "Pete" Barto, and Carl Wuchter, all three sophomores, round out the eleven man squad. "Easy Ed" put his lanky six foot four inches to good advantage to control the boards and handle his center duties. "Pete" usually could be depended upon to drop a long set shot whenever the Cougars were unable to penetrate to the basket. Carl, a reliable back court man, performed capably in his relief roles.

The Cougars J.V.'s were again unsuccessful in their bid for county laurels. "Joey" Bard and "Red" Adam captained this year's Baby Cougars. Joe and Red led the point manufacturing with 197 and 181 points respectively. The J.V.'s were undefeated in the first half, but suffered too many defeats on the road to clinch the Central flag. They lost the flag to Muhlenberg 34-33 at Northwest. "By" Burkert, "Hook" O'Neil, "Ed" Angstadt, "Bill" Alesi, "Dick" Hoch, "Joe" Furst, "Em" Fenstermacher, "Bingo" Corrigan, "Ben" Herman and "Cliff" Hill constituted the remainder of the squad.

The varsity Cougars settled down and won hands down in the second half. They eliminated Mt. Penn 67-34 and Wilson 49-39 behind the shooting of Weidenhammer, Merkel, Hauck and Suter.

Kutztown brushed aside Sinking Spring 61-36 in the first county playoff. Weidenhammer led with 20 points. Perry also proved no match for the strong Cougars and dropped in the wayside 68-30 to give Kutztown its sixth county title.

Kutztown started defense of its District 3

State Champs

Victory poses after the Ashley triumph

crown with a 61-27 win over Manheim Boro. Hauck and Suter proved too good shots for the Lancaster Countians.

Much feared Palmyra broke up in the second quarter to give Kutztown its second district victory 61-32. Weidenhammer, Suter and Merkel appeared too hot to be held down.

The District finals were gained by defeating Middletown 54-53 on "Freddy" Wuchter's after the buzzer foul shot. Borrell and Weidenhammer led the Cougars through the hot game.

Susquehanna proved no match for Kutztown as they eliminated them 59-23. Good teamwork brought the second district crown to Kutztown.

Schuylkill Haven fell by the wayside as Kutztown entered the Eastern finals with a 45-41 win over the Hurricanes.

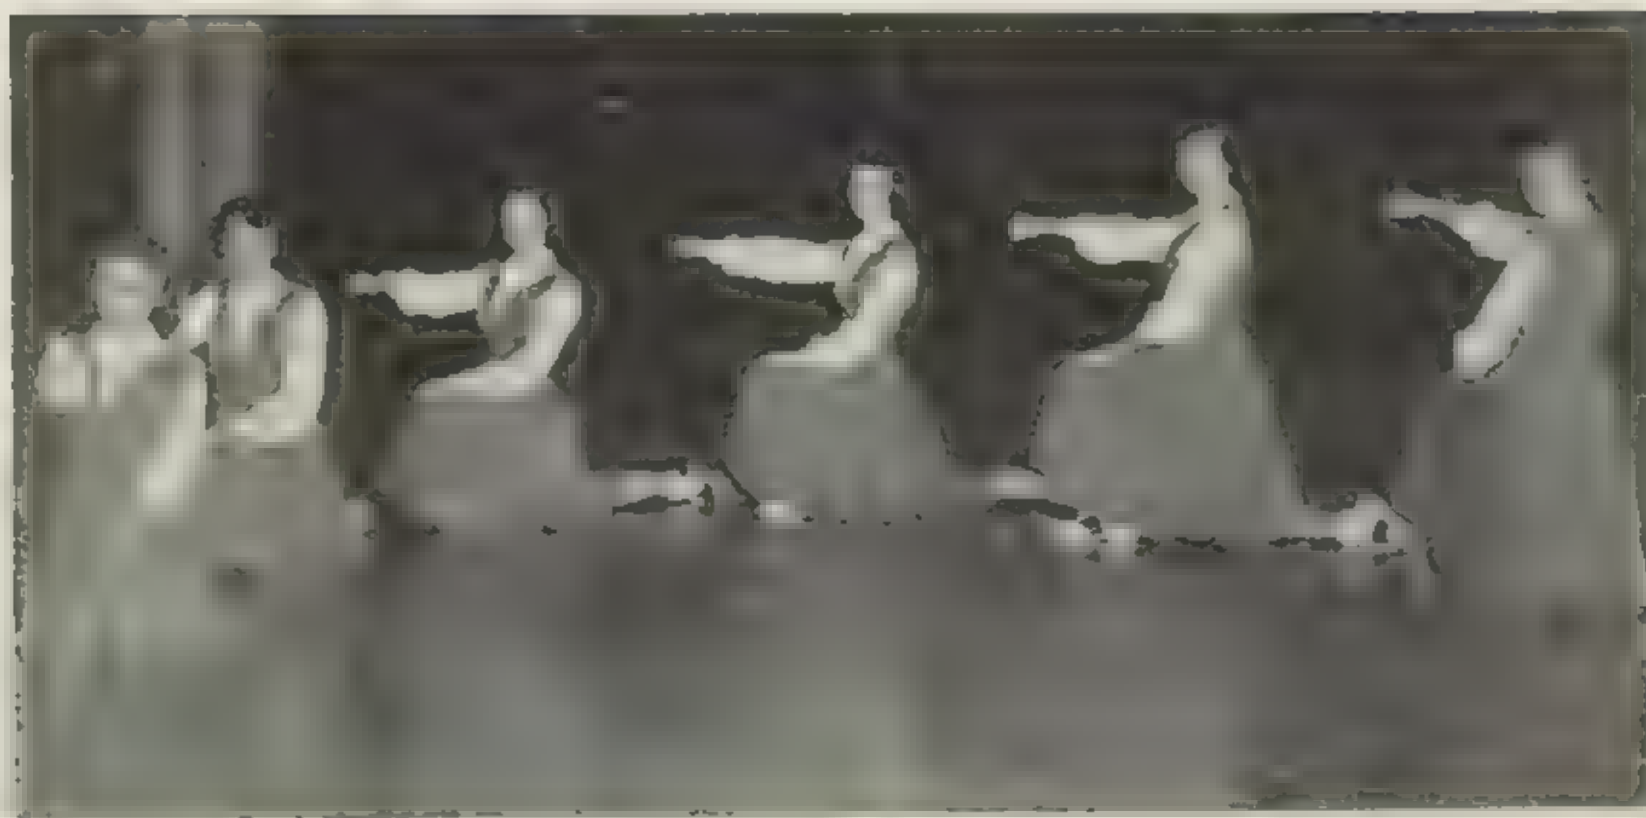

Nearly all Kutztown traveled to Allentown to see the Cougars shake favored Ashley 53-48. Bill Dankos wasn't enough to repeat last year's defeat over the Cougars. Everybody played a good game and deserved the acclaim of their wild rooters.

The WPIAL sent Irwin to Rockne Hall in the hopes of taking the State title back to Pittsburgh. Schae's boys thought differently and sent them back weeping. The slick Knights were not enough for the mighty Cougars and lost 48-47.

Kutztown welcomed the newly crowned State Champions with a gala parade up Main Street to the school where a "Victory Dance" was held. Over the Easter vacation the team spent several days at Daytona Beach, Florida. The trip was sponsored by local businessmen.

Hi-Y

"To create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community a high standard of Christian character" is the foremost aim of the Kutztown Chapter of Hi-Y clubs.

The tasks which accomplished this end are many. This year under the supervision of the advisor Mr. Oscar L. Stein and the president Curvons Stauffer such works as a canned goods drive and a clothing drive have been successfully accomplished.

Meeting in the regular club periods in school, the Hi-Y discusses pertinent problems of the members and acts as a guidance instruction course by way of publications like "Teen Talks".

The Hi-Y, acting as a subordinate of the state Y.M.C.A., moves constantly toward the advancement of behavior and standards of living.

Senior Tri-Hi-Y

With the annual Senior Farewell Party the Senior Tri-Hi-Y ended a very busy year. In September and October the club sponsored two dances, and sold apples at soccer games to raise funds. A Hallowe'en party with the Hi-Y was given by the Tri-Hi-Y in the school gym.

The highlight of the year was the Snow Ball Semi-formal in January. This dance was acclaimed the best ever given at K. H. S. Exquisite decorations and dreamy music provided an evening which those who were there will never forget.

At the various meetings there were speakers, discussions, and one very memorable and enjoyable session of voice recording. A picnic for all members of the Tri-Hi-Y was held at the Kutztown swimming pool. Those who "dunked" and got "dunked" will laugh as they remember that gay affair.

The past year has been a profitable and enjoyable one to all who were members in our Tri-Hi-Y organization.

Future Farmers of America

Since the Kutztown Chapter of the F.F.A. was organized in 1912 by Mr. Paul C. Dunkelberger, the club has been steadily growing until now it has become one of Pennsylvania's highest ranking organizations. The club's varied activities this year have included a trip to the Farm Show, a visit to the U.S. Department of Agriculture Experimental Station, and numerous local trips. The Fourth Biennial Father and Son Banquet was held, at which Eleanor Mandt was crowned Chapter Queen for 1949-1950. A successful bazaar was held April 15.

The Keystone Farmer Degree, a state award for boys with outstanding project programs, leadership and cooperation, was awarded to Russell Henry, Kermit Dietrich, Raymond Seidel and Ted Du Bois.

The officers who served the club this year were president, Ted Du Bois; vice-president, Burd Schantz; secretary, Raymond Seidel; treasurer, Norman Snyder; chaplain, Kermit Dietrich; custodian, Norman Guinther; and advisors, Mr. Paul Dunkelberger and Mr. Raymond Heimbach.

Future Homemakers of America

The Future Homemakers of America, a sister club to the Future Farmers of America, is composed of 50 members. It was organized in Kutztown High School in 1946.

The emblem of octagon shape, is red and white in color. It is composed of two youthful hands supporting a home very definitely expressing facts and truths of the club.

The chapter went to Harrisburg in January for the Annual Farm Show. In the afternoon the girls went to the State F.H.A. convention, which was held in the Educational Building of the capital. The annual Mother and Daughter Banquet was held in May also.

The girls also sponsored several dances and parties which included initiation that was held at the swimming pool.

By doing these and other things the Chapter has sought to attain its goal "Toward New Horizons". With this motto in mind we will build better families in our country and eventually in the world.

Junior Town Meeting Club

Fast friendships were made although much arguing was done at the Thursday Night meetings of the Junior Town Meeting of the Air Club. Miss Miriam Drumm is the guiding hand of the unruly debaters in this club. Our president Richard Prentiss struggles valiently to maintain order during meetings, but what is one against so many?

Members of the club participated in three major functions this year. The annual triangle panel discussions were held on Feb. 17 and 21 at Muhlenberg, Wilson and Kutztown. The affirmative team included Lunette Arnold, Elsie Hertzog and William Wessner. On the negative team were Max Bleher, Richard Prentiss, and Richard Merkel.

Those who participated in the Junior Town Meeting of the Air Radio programs were John Rohrbach, Eleanor Siegfried, speakers, and Curvous Stauffer, Dorothy Lake and Richard Merkel questioners.

At the tri-weekly meetings of the club many beneficial and interesting subjects were discussed.

On March 13 the club went to Palmerton where two teams participated in three debates apiece. Winning three out of three was the affirmative team with Lunette Arnold and William Wessner as speakers; Winfield Smith cross-examiner; and Elsie Hertzog rebuttalist. One win and two defeats were awarded to the negative team of Max Bleher and Richard Merkel speakers, David Siegfried cross-examiner; and Richard Prentiss rebuttalist.

Royal Coachman Fly Tying Club

Banded together under this banner are a group of young disciples of Izaak Walton. If you can tell a good fish story, like the feel of running water about your ankles, thrill to the surge of "fin power" against the "long rod", you belong in this anglers roost.

The "fly-tyers" learn how to take hair, fur, feathers, and silk and place them on a fish hook in such a way as to reproduce many popular patterns of trout and bass flies. Many members have experienced the thrill of having lured the "finny beauties" with their own creations.

High lighting the program for the piscatorial artists are the field trips which include participation in fish stockings and fishing trips, at which time their products are put to the supreme test. Last year's season was very adequately climaxed by a two day fishing trip to Fisherman's Paradise in Center County.

Bolt and Bore Junior Rifle Club

Do you like to perforate paper with loud attending noises? Would you like to add a little English to your shooting? If the answer is yes, then you need to apply the scientific touch to that trigger. The first step is to become a "rifletotin" Bolt and Bore member.

The history of this aggregate of X ring-hopefuls goes back to late in 1945. In 1946 the club received its charter as an affiliate member of the National Rifle Association. Several years later enrollment with the Department of Civilian Marksmanship, Department of the Army, Washington, D. C. followed. Members enjoy qualifying for ratings and awards in both the "NRA" and the "DCM".

All shooting is done with .22 cal. rifles at official N.R.A. & D.C.M. targets. Approved range procedure and shooting techniques are employed. Rules of safety in the use of firearms are rigidly enforced.

Ku-Hi-Nu

Extra! Extra! Read all about it in the Ku-Hi-Nu. That was the call heard 'round the corridors last September when the student body was bitterly fighting for the salesmanship trophy awarded to the homeroom selling the highest number of subscriptions.

The main event of the year was to Basketball Pep Rally sponsored by the Ku-Hi-Nu in October. A Christmas party at Faye Luckenbill's "Little Palestra" was held in December.

Several staff members attended the Pennsylvania School Press Association meeting at Wilkes-Barre in November.

Our graying editor, Richard Prentiss, supervised the improvement of our paper this year, which included the changing to a smaller face type and a flush left letterhead. The Cougars' Pause was revamped in accordance with the precepts of the P.S.P.A.

The senior members of the staff leaves their positions to their successors with a sigh of relief and pleasure. Amen!

The Projector Club

Focus! Frame Your Picture! Check Your Volume!

These are familiar "commands" that the student operator hears from Mr. Keim as he makes his debut as a projectionist.

During the meeting members are busily engaged in pre-viewing films, learning to operate the moving picture projector, the film strip and slide machine, the opaque projector, and the delineascope.

Those members who attain a certain degree of skill are designated as student operators and are frequently called upon to set up and operate equipment in the class room and for other activities in the school program.

Kutztown High School Band

The Kutztown High School Band under the direction of William S. Moyer had a very busy schedule for the past year. Last summer the band played at many Church picnics, gave successful concerts in the park band shell, and supplied the heat in many parades. The band had a large financial boost with its refreshment stand at the fair. Before the fall concert a doggie roast and party for all band members and alumni was enjoyed at Schmoyer's Barn. The band paraded at a few Halloween parades, in spite of the rain and the cold weather. The third anniversary concert held in December boosted a record crowd. From that time until now, the band had a full time cheering (playing that is) for our state championship basketball team. The spring concert is the best and largest of the band's activities. Commencement and Memorial Day Parades end the band's year.

Model Making Club

Our club was organized primarily for pupils of the junior high school level who are interested in various types of model construction. We have built scale aeroplanes, solid and flying models powered with rubber bands and small gas engines; gliders with three and four foot wing spans; racers with carbon dioxide or gas motors, and speed boats that can be operated or used only as display pieces. Some designs are original while others are built from construction kits that are available at most hobby shops. Some of the work will be on display on the night of our annual school exhibit.

Library Club

The Library Club, advised by Miss Kloz, is unique, because it provides a means for those who wish to learn more of library work to do so through practical experience. Although no course in library work is offered at the high school, those who are interested may join the Library Club, and in this way learn the management of a library. Club members are required to put in four hours of work per week, and in this time they check library passes and due books, stamp, catalog, and arrange new books, and help with all library work.

Acknowledgments

The class of 1950 wishes to thank Mr. Harry E. Herman for doing an excellent job of photography; the Penn Engraving Company for the engravings; and the Kutztown Publishing Company for the servicing and printing. We also wish to especially thank our patrons, whose generosity helped make the 1950 Cougar a possibility, and those students and faculty members who devoted so much of their time and effort to this book.
